

Pioneering Discoveries in Developmental Psychology

Developmental Psychology · Practice Test · 1 Questions

1. Who is credited with conducting one of the earliest systematic, detailed observational studies of child development, specifically his own infant son, published in 'A Biographical Sketch of an Infant' in 1877?

- A) Jean Piaget
- B) Charles Darwin
- C) Sigmund Freud
- D) G. Stanley Hall