

China's 2026 Fashion Revolution: AI, Sustainability, and Global Influence Dom

Chinese Fashion · Practice Test · 8 Questions

---

1. Which technology is being increasingly integrated into China Fashion Week in Beijing for 2026, enabling the deconstruction and digital reconstruction of traditional Chinese aesthetics?

- A) Blockchain
- B) Virtual Reality
- C) Artificial Intelligence (AI)
- D) 3D Printing

2. Shanghai Fashion Week Autumn/Winter 2026 highlighted 'reimagined femininity.' Which designer's collection, known for its glamorous yet rebellious aesthetic, captured attention with bold silhouettes and contemporary femininity?

- A) SHUSHU/TONG
- B) Mark Gong
- C) Xu Zhi
- D) Yirantian

3. As of January 2026, China has a significant number of Fashion Tech startups. Which of the following startups, known for its photo and video editing apps, has expanded into facial recognition and smartphones?

- A) Cider
- B) Halara
- C) Meitu
- D) Poison

4. In the context of fashion retail in 2026, China is expected to lead in AI-mediated shopping environments. What is the term for AI-driven retail that redefines customer experience and brand visibility strategies?

- A) Agentic Commerce
- B) Generative AI Optimization (GEO)
- C) Digital Product Passports (DPPs)
- D) Virtual Try-On

5. The 37th Guangdong Fashion Week in April 2026 saw the integration of intangible cultural heritage (ICH) elements like Xiangyunsha and Chaozhou embroidery into haute couture. What is the primary goal of this initiative?

- A) To promote traditional tourism
- B) To create a unique selling proposition for export
- C) To offer an innovative model for the living inheritance of Chinese ICH and elevate China's voice in the creative economy
- D) To secure UNESCO World Heritage status for the techniques

6. According to reports in early 2026, what is the main driver for the projected growth in China's personal luxury goods market, despite cautious consumer spending?

- A) A significant increase in outbound luxury tourism
- B) The growing appeal of local Chinese brands and innovation
- C) A global recession leading to a flight to quality assets
- D) Increased government subsidies for luxury purchases

7. The 'Becoming Chinese' trend, viral on social media in 2026, centers on adopting lifestyle habits rooted in traditional Chinese wisdom. What is a key characteristic differentiating it from past fads focused on exotic symbols?

- A) It focuses on Western interpretations of Chinese art
- B) It involves actively embracing and participating in Chinese lifestyle practices
- C) It promotes the export of Chinese fashion brands
- D) It is limited to the aesthetics of traditional Chinese clothing

8. New regulations in China, effective April 2026, are impacting the ultra-fast fashion model. What is a key consequence of these new guidelines, particularly concerning shipments to the EU?

- A) An increase in customs exemptions for small parcels
- B) The elimination of all import taxes for fashion items
- C) The end of the de minimis rule and the introduction of a fixed tax per item
- D) A reduced focus on product safety and compliance