

Japan's Economy Navigates Global Health Shifts: Tourism Surge, Supply Cha

Global Health & Economy · Answer Key · 8 Questions

---

1. What is a significant factor contributing to Japan's tourism sector recovery and record-breaking performance in 2024?

- A) A sudden decrease in international flights.
- B) A positive exchange rate for international travelers.
- C) Strict new visa requirements for all visitors.
- D) A decline in domestic travel interest.

2. Japan's government is actively promoting efforts to mitigate risks to its extensive supply chains across Asia. What is a primary focus of these efforts?

- A) Increasing reliance on single manufacturing regions.
- B) Encouraging companies to diversify sourcing and near-shoring production.
- C) Reducing investment in the semiconductor industry.
- D) Focusing solely on exports to China.

3. In recent years, what has been a key driver for Japan's investment and development in its healthcare sector, especially post-pandemic?

- A) A decrease in the aging population.
- B) Increased reliance on traditional medicine only.
- C) Technological transformation, including AI and digital health integration.
- D) A reduction in public healthcare spending.

4. The World Travel & Tourism Council (WTTC) forecasts significant growth for Japan's tourism sector. What is the projected contribution of this sector to Japan's economy in 2024?

- A) Approximately 3% of GDP.
- B) Around 7.5% of GDP.
- C) Less than 1% of GDP.
- D) Exactly 50% of GDP.

5. Following global health events, Japan's economy has seen shifts in its trade dynamics. What is a stated risk to Japan's supply chains in Asia?

- A) A surplus of raw materials.
- B) Geopolitical strains and pandemic-era vulnerabilities.
- C) Reduced demand for Japanese exports.
- D) Increased trade with only one specific country.

6. Japan's healthcare market is experiencing growth, partly due to a specific demographic trend. What is this trend?

- A) A rapidly decreasing elderly population.
- B) A significant increase in the birth rate.
- C) A rapidly aging population.
- D) A decline in chronic diseases.

7. Which of the following has been a significant cyclical driver of post-pandemic tourism recovery in Japan, making travel more affordable?

- A) A strengthening of the Japanese Yen.
- B) A weakening of the Japanese Yen.
- C) Increased international flight costs.
- D) New import tariffs on tourist goods.

8. To build more resilient supply chains, Japan's government is encouraging companies to pursue which strategies?

- A) Concentrating production in a single country.
- B) Diversifying sourcing and near-shoring production.
- C) Reducing investment in research and development.
- D) Ignoring international market trends.