

East Asia's Economic Pulse: AI Boom, Inflation Hikes, and Market Shifts This

Global Financial News · Practice Test · 14 Questions

---

1. Which East Asian stock market recently hit a new closing high, largely propelled by optimism surrounding Artificial Intelligence development and a rally in US tech stocks?

- A) South Korea's KOSPI
- B) Japan's Nikkei 225
- C) Taiwan's TaieX
- D) Hong Kong's Hang Seng Index

2. South Korea has announced a policy change to boost its semiconductor industry. What is the key change regarding the import of Extreme Ultraviolet (EUV) lithography machines?

- A) The import time has been reduced from 34 days to approximately 9 days
- B) The import tax on EUV machines has been eliminated
- C) South Korea will now only allow imports from a single supplier
- D) The government will subsidize 50% of all EUV machine imports

3. What is the ASEAN+3 Macroeconomic Research Office's (AMRO) maintained growth forecast for the ASEAN+3 region in 2026, despite ongoing Middle East conflict concerns?

- A) 3.5%
- B) 4.0%
- C) 2.5%
- D) 5.0%

4. According to recent reports, which East Asian country's stock market has experienced blistering growth, with its main index hitting an all-time high, largely due to the AI-driven rise of chipmakers like SK Hynix and Samsung Electronics?

- A) Japan
- B) Taiwan
- C) South Korea
- D) China

5. Bank of Japan Governor Kazuo Ueda's recent comments suggest a potential policy shift. What action is the Bank of Japan signaling a higher chance of taking soon?

- A) Reducing interest rates
- B) Increasing quantitative easing
- C) Raising interest rates
- D) Maintaining current policy unchanged

6. What is a primary factor contributing to the projected increase in Southeast Asia's e-commerce market to $289.8 billion by 2029?

- A) A decrease in internet penetration
- B) A decline in the use of digital payments
- C) A significant rise in digital payments and mobile wallet usage
- D) Government subsidies for physical retail stores

7. Which East Asian economy has recently seen a significant increase in its trade surplus with China, driven primarily by semiconductor exports due to the global AI boom?

- A) Japan
- B) Taiwan
- C) South Korea
- D) Vietnam

8. Despite ongoing geopolitical uncertainty and supply chain disruptions, what sector is a key factor supporting resilient growth in several ASEAN+3 economies?

- A) Tourism
- B) Agriculture
- C) Textiles
- D) Semiconductors

9. What is the projected inflation rate for the ASEAN+3 region in 2026, as revised by AMRO, reflecting prolonged disruptions from the Middle East conflict?

- A) 1.4%
- B) 1.8%
- C) 2.5%
- D) 3.5%

10. Taiwan's stock market, the Taiex, recently reached a new closing high. Which company's performance was highlighted as a key driver for the electronics sector's gains?

- A) MediaTek Inc.
- B) Hon Hai Precision Industry Co.
- C) TSMC (Taiwan Semiconductor Manufacturing Co.)
- D) ASE Technology Holding Co.

11. What is the OECD's revised economic growth forecast for South Korea in 2026, an upward adjustment driven by strong semiconductor exports?

- A) 2.6%
- B) 1.7%
- C) 2.0%
- D) 2.5%

12. What has been a major impact of the Iran war on tourism-dependent economies in Southeast Asia, just as they were recovering from the pandemic?

- A) A decrease in jet fuel costs
- B) Increased demand for international flights
- C) Higher airfares and flight disruptions due to soaring fuel prices
- D) A decline in the use of digital payment platforms

13. Which of the following countries saw its annual inflation rate accelerate in May 2026, partly due to higher prices for imported fuels impacted by the Iran war?

- A) China
- B) Japan
- C) South Korea
- D) Vietnam

14. According to recent reports, what is a primary concern regarding the South Korean stock market's recent success, despite its growth?

- A) Over-reliance on the tourism sector
- B) A heavy dependence on only two major chipmaking companies
- C) A decline in foreign investment
- D) Insufficient IPO activity