

Milestones in Developmental Psychology

Developmental Psychology · Practice Test · 10 Questions

1. Who published the first 'baby biography' based on detailed observations of his own son, Doddy, in 1877?

- A) Charles Darwin
- B) Jean Piaget
- C) G. Stanley Hall
- D) John B. Watson

2. Which researcher is credited with establishing the first psychological laboratory in America and writing the first textbook on adolescence?

- A) Erik Erikson
- B) Lev Vygotsky
- C) G. Stanley Hall
- D) Arnold Gesell

3. What was the primary apparatus developed by Eleanor Gibson and Richard Walk in 1960 to study depth perception in infants?

- A) The Strange Situation
- B) The Visual Cliff
- C) The A-not-B Task
- D) The Mirror Test

4. In 1970, Mary Ainsworth introduced which experimental procedure to classify attachment styles in infants?

- A) The Bobo Doll Experiment
- B) The Strange Situation
- C) The False-Belief Task
- D) The Theory of Mind test

5. Who was the first psychologist to formally propose the concept of 'object permanence' in infant cognitive development?

- A) Jean Piaget
- B) B.F. Skinner
- C) Sigmund Freud
- D) Albert Bandura

6. Which researcher developed the 'Mirror Test' (or rouge test) in 1970 to investigate self-recognition in young children?

- A) Gordon Gallup Jr.
- B) Harry Harlow
- C) Konrad Lorenz
- D) Lawrence Kohlberg

7. The first longitudinal study of gifted children, which tracked participants for decades, was initiated by whom in 1921?

- A) Lewis Terman
- B) Alfred Binet
- C) David Wechsler
- D) James Mark Baldwin

8. What developmental phenomenon was first described by Konrad Lorenz through his study of greylag geese?

- A) Classical Conditioning
- B) Imprinting
- C) Operant Conditioning
- D) Secure Attachment

9. Who conducted the first systematic experiments on rhesus monkeys to study the importance of 'contact comfort' over nourishment?

- A) Harry Harlow
- B) John Bowlby
- C) Mary Main
- D) René Spitz

10. What is the name of the first standardized intelligence test, developed by Alfred Binet and Theodore Simon in 1905?

- A) WISC
- B) Stanford-Binet Scale
- C) Binet-Simon Scale
- D) Bayley Scales