

Body & Language: Your Speech System

Linguistics · Practice Test · 3 Questions

1. Which organs are primarily responsible for providing the airflow necessary to produce speech sounds?

- A) Lungs
- B) Kidneys
- C) Liver
- D) Spleen

2. What is the primary structure in the throat that houses the vocal folds, essential for voice production?

- A) Esophagus
- B) Pharynx
- C) Larynx
- D) Trachea

3. Which highly flexible muscle in the mouth is crucial for articulating a wide variety of speech sounds?

- A) Biceps
- B) Tongue
- C) Diaphragm
- D) Hamstring